

CARING FOR YOUR LINEN

BED LINEN

We recommend you wash your bed linen before putting on the bed as a small amount of shrinkage will occur on the first wash.

Our bed linen can be washed at up to 95°C but for normal use 60°C is normally ok. Tumble drying is not a problem but care should be taken not to overload the dryer risking greater creasing. Line dry is recommended when possible and to iron (if necessary) when slightly damp.

Wash up to 95°C.
60°C for normal use.

Line dry if possible.
Do not overload dryer.

Iron when damp.

WHITE 650GSM TOWELS

Please wash all towels before use. Whilst our towels can be washed up to 95°C, a 60°C wash is normally ok. Tumble drying is normally ok, but be careful not to over dry and use 'cool down' ten minutes before the end to allow bres to relax. Fabric softener is not required on combed cotton yarn and will ultimately result in reducing the towels absorbency.

Wash up to 95°C.
60°C for normal use.

Do not over dry.
Allow 10 min cool down.

Do not use fabric softener.

BATHROBES

Like our towels, our 100% cotton bathrobes can be washed up to 95°C, but again a 60°C wash is normally plenty. Our Supersoft bathrobes need a little more care so only wash at 40°C. Tumble drying is normally ok, just be careful not to over heat them. It is normal for a small amount of shrinkage on the first wash.

Wash up to 95°C.
60°C for normal use.

Tumble dry.

PILLOWS & DUVETS

For the most practical of reasons, due to the size of normal domestic washers and dryers, we recommend you leave the laundering of these items to the professionals.

Professionally launder

MATTRESS & PILLOW PROTECTORS

Fully machine washable at 60°C. Tumble drying where possible (may not be practical) is not a problem. Line dry is recommended when/where possible.

Wash up to 60°C.

Line dry if possible.
Do not overload dryer.

BATH RUGS

Machine washable at 60°C. Tumble drying is no problem. If possible we recommend that you should wash these in a mesh bag to prevent the yarns from catching on the drum.

Wash up to 60°C.

Tumble dry.

Wash in mesh bag.
